June 28 2016 meeting agenda.docx

Dear Stakeholders –

Attached is a draft agenda for our next meeting at 6:30, Tuesday, June 28th at Town Hall in Silverton. There are lots of topics and updates.

Also, attached is an EPA document on CAG's and TAG's; and below are several links that came from EPA regarding several items that should be of interest.

For data showing the effectiveness of the temporary treatment plant at Gladstone - Interim Water Treatment Plant Inlet and Outlet Concentrations \(XLSX\).

Here is a draft SAP for an extensive amount of water quality sampling this summer by EPA - <http://bpmd.techlawinc.com/>

Here I simply copied an email from EPA about the monitoring effort regarding the Gold King spill. This is a separate effort from the work regarding a Superfund designation.

"EPA today released March 2016 sampling data in connection with the Aug. 5, 2015 Gold King Mine release. The data is now available on the Gold King Mine response website.

EPA performed water, sediment and additional sampling March 22-24, 2016, at multiple locations along the Animas and San Juan rivers, in accordance with the agency's Conceptual Monitoring Plan. The data indicate that none of the sampled constituents exceed risk-based recreational screening thresholds for water or sediment. Additional sampling will be conducted this month and again this fall. EPA will also coordinate with local jurisdictions and tribes to sample the rivers during heavy rain events during the summer. View the sampling results: March 2016 Follow Up Monitoring Data \(XLSX\) \(1 pg, 329 K\)(1 pg, 336 K) Access all water quality data in the watershed via EPA's water quality portal. Here is a link to the complaint New Mexico has filed in court against EPA and Sunnyside Gold regarding the Gold King spill. <https://lntvkrqe.files.wordpress.com/2016/05/gold-king-mine-spill-lawsuit.pdf>

Finally, the comment period for the proposed designation ended yesterday. I have heard that not all of the comments that were submitted are available yet on the website. So you might wait a few days to see them all.

Hope to see you in two weeks.
